OFFICIAL SELECTION 2009

The concepts of real life and fiction, documentary and drama, are explored in this real-life feature which follows the unbelievable life of Petra, a German woman living in Istanbul...

"İsmail Necmi introduces us to a shadowy world of serpentine women and fetishistic males. Moving between fantasy and reality, you soon discover the best place is in between, a nifty little spot where you can be anyone you want to be, no explanations, no holds barred. Necmi, a renowned photographer, moves easily between these realms with fascinating confidence. The result is an intelligent, original and strikingly attractive film!" Dimitri Eipides

*"I've already watched this extraordinary film 4 or 5 times. In my opinion, it has only one fault - it's addictive!"
Feride Çiçekoğlu - Film Critic - Altyazı*

*"One can only do something totally original by breaking with all received wisdom. 'Should I Really Do It?' does. Fearlessly."
Fatih Özgüven - Film Critic - Altyazı*
